Head's Lines

Dear Parents and Carers,

It has been another incredibly positive week in school, full of moments that highlight the resilience, talent and spirit of our children.

Last week, our Year 6 pupils returned from their residential brimming with pride, and rightly so. The trip was a huge success, with every child challenging themselves, overcoming personal goals and encouraging one another along the way. It was wonderful to see relationships strengthen, confidence grow and resilience shine through in so many different activities. Their behaviour throughout was exemplary and they represented our school beautifully. A huge thank you to the staff team who supported them and made the experience so memorable.

This week, it is Year 5's turn, and we hope they have an equally fantastic residential. We look forward to hearing all about their adventures when they return. We were also immensely proud of our children who performed at the TAMAT concert last Tuesday evening. Their teamwork, focus and musicality were truly impressive, and it was a joy to see them shine on such a special stage.

A reminder to Chestnut Class parents that you are warmly invited to join us for Celebration Assembly this Friday, where we will share highlights and achievements from across the term.

As we approach the end of term, please note: There will be no newsletter this Friday. School finishes at 1.30pm on Friday 27th March for the Easter break.

Children return to school on Tuesday 14th April. Finally, I want to take this opportunity to emphasise the continued importance of good attendance. Every day in school counts, and regular attendance ensures children don't miss key learning, routines and opportunities that support both their academic progress and wellbeing. Thank you for your ongoing support and partnership. I hope you all have a wonderful week ahead and a restful Easter break when it arrives.

Kind regards,
Mrs Egan
